Reception 2026 – Key Stage 1 appeals

The law states that infant classes must be limited to a maximum of 30 children which has an impact on how an appeal is considered.

There are only certain circumstances under which an appeal panel can uphold a Key Stage 1 appeal and if an appeal does not satisfy any of these conditions then it cannot be upheld in favour of the parent/carer.

The panel may only uphold the appeal at the first stage where:

a) it finds that the admission of additional children would not breach the infant class size limit

b) it finds that the admission arrangements did not comply with admissions law or were not correctly and impartially applied and the child would have been offered a place if the arrangements had complied or had been correctly and impartially applied

or

c) it decides that the decision to refuse admission was not one which a reasonable admission authority would have made in the circumstances of the case.

We would encourage you in the first instance to discuss your case informally with a member of the Croydon Admissions Team who will give you advice and explain the process.
